Banked Cloze

People go to college for various reasons. A closer look at their reasons for studying at university will enable us to classify them roughly into three groups: those who have a passion for learning, those who see it as a necessary step in their future career, and those who attend university without a clear purpose yet.

Firstly, there are many students who learn simply because they want to pursue their goal of learning. Some read a wealth of novels because they are very interested in literature. Others sit in front of the computer screen, working on a new program, virtually day and night, because they find computer programming fascinating, and they dream of becoming a computer expert one day.

Secondly, there are students who work hard for a better and more prosperous future. It seems that the majority of students fall into this group. After admission to the university, they read widely and take delight in acquiring knowledge from all of the resources which are available to them, hoping that this will help them succeed in the future job market.

Thirdly, there are still some students who learn without a clear goal yet. They take courses, finish homework, enjoy life on campus, but they haven't sampled many courses yet. They are still uncertain what they will do after graduation.

For example, while a mother thinks her teenagers should feel embarrassed about their messy and dirty room, the teenagers are more worried about their next exams and may think it is ridiculous for their mother to insist on keeping a clean room. It is therefore important for you to appreciate the differences and learn to communicate with your teenagers properly. Otherwise, your teenagers may stop talking to you and shut you out of their personal lives. Their refusal to talk with you may even create emotional stress in your life.

Learning effective ways to communicate can reverse the situation of a difficult relationship, reduce the stress in your life, and lead to a friendly relationship with your teenagers. First, you should learn to discuss serious problems in daily conversations. Important topics, such as driving a vehicle and building a romantic relationship, could be dealt with through daily conversations.

Second, learn to be an active listener. Many parents are so overwhelmed with their work that they hardly spend quality time with their beloved children. Spend your time listening carefully to what your children talk about, and make sure your children feel they are being taken seriously. This will increase the chances of good communication and strengthen the bond between you and your children.

Finally, be positive and supportive. Your children will benefit more from your encouragement and support rather than criticism.

Unit 4 Social media matters

Banked Cloze

What do you think of social media? A novelty to enjoy? Or a potential cause of mental problems?

Indeed, while many college students try to make full use of social media, they may ignore its risks, especially in terms of mental health. So far, numerous studies have reported a link between social media and students' mental problems. The common symptoms include anxiety, sleeping problems, emotional difficulties, and worst of all, depression.

One of the reasons social media can lead to mental problems is comparison. Like many other people, college students tend to post on social media their exciting stories, impressive experiences, and attractive images. Comparing themselves with their peers, some students may feel unhappy, for they consider themselves boring and unattractive. The more they compare themselves with others, the more pressure they may feel, contributing to mental problems.

Unit 5 Friendship across border and gender

Banked Cloze

When I was little, I was very shy. I wanted to make friends, but did not know how to begin a friendship. My mother told me to reach out to others who were also shy and talk to them. It worked and I made some truly affectionate friendships in my childhood. Since then, this approach has never ceased to amaze me.

So, if you want to make friends with others, be willing to take the initiative. Make the first move and invite them to join you for some activities, such as hiking or cycling. When you show your love and care to others, you receive love and care in return.

People like talking about themselves, so show interest and listen conscientiously to them. People also enjoy being around someone who appreciates and is enthusiastic about their success. So, show appreciation and be supportive. Make sure you give them a pat on the back or a round of applause if they have achieved something. Such body language enables you to send an "I care" message.

Yet, you must realize that sometimes when you reach out, people may decline your offer of friendship. That's OK. Don't give up. Just repeat the process all over again. It's truly worth it when someone responds and a great friendship is formed! So, just have an open mind and try to make more friends!

Unit 6 Winning is not everything

Banked Cloze

For several centuries, cricket (板球) has been a very popular sport in England. It has been enjoyed by both professional and amateur players. This super-popular game is a bat-and-ball game played between two teams of 11 players. It can provide people with health benefits such as building endurance, balance, and physical fitness. But for a team sport, cricket also places individual players under unusual pressure because every team player is independent of each other.

Cricket might have started in early 13th-century England. Written records present evidence of a game known as creag being played by Prince Edward at Newenden, Kent, in the year 1301; and despite no hard evidence, it is possible that this was a form of cricket. By the end of the 18th century, cricket had evolved into a national sport of England. With the growth of the British Empire, cricket attained popularity in other countries and in the mid-19th century, the first international contest was held.

Matches in cricket can range from informal weekend afternoon games on village greens to top-level international contests played by professional players in grand stadiums.

Cricket has had a remarkable impact on popular culture in England. It has had an influence on the vocabulary of the English language, too. For example, the expression it's not cricket was coined to describe unfair behavior in general. It's because the game of cricket, with its traditional regard for courtesy and fair play, has been a metaphor (象征) for these qualities.

人们上大学的原因各不相同.仔细研究一下他们上大学的原因,我们可以大致将他们分为三类:那些对学习充满热情的人,那些认为学习是未来职业生涯的必要步骤的人,以及那些上大学还没有明确目标的人.

首先,有很多学生学习只是因为他们想追求学习的目标.有些人读了很多小说,因为他们对文学很感兴趣.还有一些人坐在电脑屏幕前,几乎日夜不停地开发一个新程序,因为他们觉得计算机编程很有趣,他们梦想有一天成为计算机专家.

其次,有些学生为了更好、更繁荣的未来而努力工作.似乎大多数学生都属于这一类.进入大学后,他们广泛阅读,乐于从所有可用的资源中获取知识,希望这能帮助他们在未来的就业市场上取得成功.

第三,还有一些学生学习时还没有明确的目标.他们上课、完成作业、享受校园生活,但还没有体验过太多课程.他们还不确定毕业后要做什么.

父母和青少年要担心的事情不同,甚至相反.例如,母亲认为青少年应该为房间凌乱、肮脏感到尴尬,而青少年更担心下一次考试,可能认为母亲坚持保持房间整洁是荒谬的.因此,重要的是你要理解差异,学会正确地与青少年沟通.否则,你的青少年可能会停止和你说话,把你排除在他们的个人生活之外.他们拒绝和你说话甚至会给你的生活带来情绪压力.

学习有效的沟通方式可以扭转困难的关系,减轻你生活中的压力,并与青少年建立友好的关系.首先,你应该学会在日常对话中讨论严肃的问题.重要的话题,如驾驶车辆和建立恋爱关系,可以通过日常对话来处理.

其次,学会做一个积极的倾听者.许多父母忙于工作,几乎没有时间陪伴心爱的孩子.花时间仔细聆听孩子的谈话,确保孩子感到自己受到重视.这将增加良好沟通的机会,并加强您与孩子之间的联系.

最后,要积极支持.与批评相比,您的鼓励和支持对孩子更有益.

1961 年一个炎热的夏日,袁隆平在湖南视察试验田时,发现了一株结有 230 粒稻米的水稻.他小心翼翼地把稻米都收集起来,并于次年春天种植,希望能找到提高水稻产量的方法.结果长出来的新植株表现出各种有用的特性,但令他失望的是,没有一株像亲本那样高产.

当时,有些人对杂交水稻持怀疑态度.然而,袁隆平凭借对基因工程的了解,对杂交水稻充满信心.他相信杂交是普遍的,而且杂交总会产生更强壮的后代.

然后,袁隆平专注于开发杂交水稻.第一次突破发生在 1970 年,当时他的团队在海南发现了一种雄性不育野生稻.经过精心照料,袁隆平于 1973 年成功培育出优质杂交水稻品种.

由于他的努力,自那以后,60 多个国家种植了约 800 万公顷杂交水稻.袁隆平致力于杂交水稻的研发,帮

助中国和世界消除了贫困，解决了粮食短缺问题。

他说：“杂交水稻技术不只是中国的，也是世界的。只要我活着，我就不会停止对超高产水稻的追求和梦想。”

Unit 4

你如何看待社交媒体？是享受新奇事物？还是导致心理问题的潜在原因？

事实上，虽然许多大学生试图充分利用社交媒体，但他们可能会忽视其风险，尤其是在心理健康方面。到目前为止，许多研究报告了社交媒体与学生心理问题之间的联系。常见症状包括焦虑、睡眠问题、情绪障碍，最糟糕的是抑郁。

社交媒体导致心理问题的原因之一是比较。和许多其他人一样，大学生倾向于在社交媒体上发布他们激动人心的故事、令人印象深刻的经历和有吸引力的图片。将自己与同龄人进行比较，一些学生可能会感到不快乐，因为他们认为自己很无聊，没有吸引力。他们与他人的比较越多，他们可能感到的压力就越大，从而导致心理问题。

然而，正如任何事物都有两面一样，社交媒体既有积极的一面，也有消极的一面。社交媒体应用程序使学生能够更轻松地相互联系，获取更多有用的信息，并发展社交网络。毫无疑问，社交媒体有潜力帮助学生，特别是那些遇到困难的学生，因为它是他们可以获得理想支持的地方。

Unit 5

我小时候很害羞。我想交朋友，但不知道如何开始一段友谊。我妈妈告诉我要主动联系那些同样害羞的人，和他们交谈。这个方法很有效，我在童年时就结交了一些真正深厚的友谊。从那时起，这种方法就一直让我惊叹不已。

所以，如果你想和别人交朋友，就要愿意采取主动。主动邀请他们和你一起参加一些活动，比如徒步旅行或骑自行车。当你向别人表达你的爱和关心时，你也会得到爱和关心的回报。

人们喜欢谈论自己，所以要表现出兴趣，认真倾听。人们也喜欢和欣赏他们并对他们的成功充满热情的人在一起。所以，要表达欣赏和支持。如果他们取得了一些成就，一定要拍拍他们的肩膀或鼓掌。这样的肢体语言能让你传达“我在乎”的信息。

然而，你必须意识到，有时当你主动联系时，人们可能会拒绝你的友谊。没关系。不要放弃。只需重复这个过程。当有人回应并建立起深厚的友谊时，这真的很值得！所以，只要保持开放的心态，尝试结交更多朋友！

几个世纪以来，板球一直是英国非常受欢迎的运动。无论是专业球员还是业余球员都喜欢它。这项超级流行的运动是两队各 11 名球员之间的球棒游戏。它可以为人们带来健康益处，例如增强耐力、平衡感和身体健康。但作为一项团队运动，板球也给个人球员带来了不同寻常的压力，因为每个队员都是相互独立的。

板球可能起源于 13 世纪初的英国。书面记录提供了爱德华王子在 1301 年在肯特郡纽恩登玩过一种名为 creag 的游戏的证据；尽管没有确凿的证据，但这可能是板球的一种形式。到 18 世纪末，板球已发展成为英格兰的一项民族运动。随着大英帝国的发展，板球在其他国家也越来越受欢迎，并在 19 世纪中叶举行了第一场国际比赛。

板球比赛形式多样，从周末下午在村庄草地上举行的非正式比赛，到职业球员在大型体育场举行的顶级国际比赛。

板球对英国的流行文化产生了巨大影响.它影响了英语词汇.例如，表达“这不是板球”的词语被用来描述一般的不公平行为.这是因为板球运动传统上尊重礼貌和公平竞争，而板球运动已成为这些品质的象征.
